UNAN-Managua commemorates the 67th anniversary of the heroic deed of Rigoberto Lopez Perez

This Thursday, 21 September, marks the 67th anniversary of Rigoberto López Pérez's dedication and sacrifice for the freedom of Nicaragua. He was declared a national hero in recognition of his courageous deed carried out in León, when he shot the tyrant Anastasio Somoza García in 1956, thus initiating a new phase of ascent in the revolutionary struggle.

As part of the activities carried out by UNAN-Managua to commemorate this milestone, the Miguel d'Escoto Brockmann House of Sovereignty organized a lecture entitled "Rigoberto López Pérez: The beginning of the End", delivered by Professor José Gerardo Moreno Martínez.

According to the speaker, Rigoberto's heroic deed must be framed in the historical process of National Liberation initiated by General Augusto C. Sandino against the imperialist forces, since the preparations and the action of assassinating the tyrant constituted the firmest decision of struggle of a small group of men who were fully conscious of their duty to the homeland.

"Rigoberto's action was a slap in the face of imperialism and its expansionist, neocolonialist policy of exploitation and domination over the peoples of Latin America and the Caribbean," he said.
